FOREWORD

The 1963 ARCH, our yearbook, will always be treasured by us because it contains our high school memories. The experiences and knowledge that we've gained in the past years are the foundation upon which we shall build our futures. We take pride in our yearbook for we not only worked to organize it, but we also lived these moments. We hope that through our enthusiasm, others will be able to enjoy and appreciate it as much as we do. This year has been filled with special memories. The fellowship in our class, which has been growing throughout the years, has put a personal feeling into our yearbook. There's a saying that "distance makes the heart grow fonder." Now we believe that an anticipation of a separation brings people closer. The most important years of our lives are condensed into the pages of the 1963 ARCH.

DEDICATION

With fondness and gratitude, we the class of 1963, dedicate our yearbook to the teacher who has been more than an instructor and advisor. He has reached out and befriended each and every one of us. His friendly sarcasm, humor, and understanding will remain in our memories throughout the years. To you, Mr. Randall, we proudly dedicate our yearbook.

"Now let's discuss the important problem at hand -- graduating!"

"All right, just how many times do I have to explain the problem?"

"Look at your answer again. It doesn't even make sense!"

FELLOWSHIP FORMS

The ground breaking ceremony for our new addition.

The beginning of the new T.-N.H.S.

The door through which we pass in search of knowledge.

A FIRM FOUNDATION

Mrs. Sullivan relaxes at her desk after a busy morning.

Time out for lunch.

Last minute studying.

UPON WHICH FUTURES ARE BUILT

Parlez-Vous Francais?

Nimble fingers and quick minds.

The chemistry lab fascinates not only students of chemistry but also those in physics.

ADMINISTRATION...

FELLOWSHIP BEGINS

Mr. Pucci of the building committee and members of the school board, Mr. Lawrence, Mrs. Yudickey, Mr. Dwinal, and Mr. MacGregor, carefully go over the building proposals submitted by the architect.

Dr. Grevior now joins the group. Although the school board does not affect the student directly, their timely efforts benefit all students.

Mr. MacGregor watches while other members of the school board review different school projects.

WITH OUR LEADERS

Miss Ford not only faithfully helps Mr. Fox but also assists the teachers.

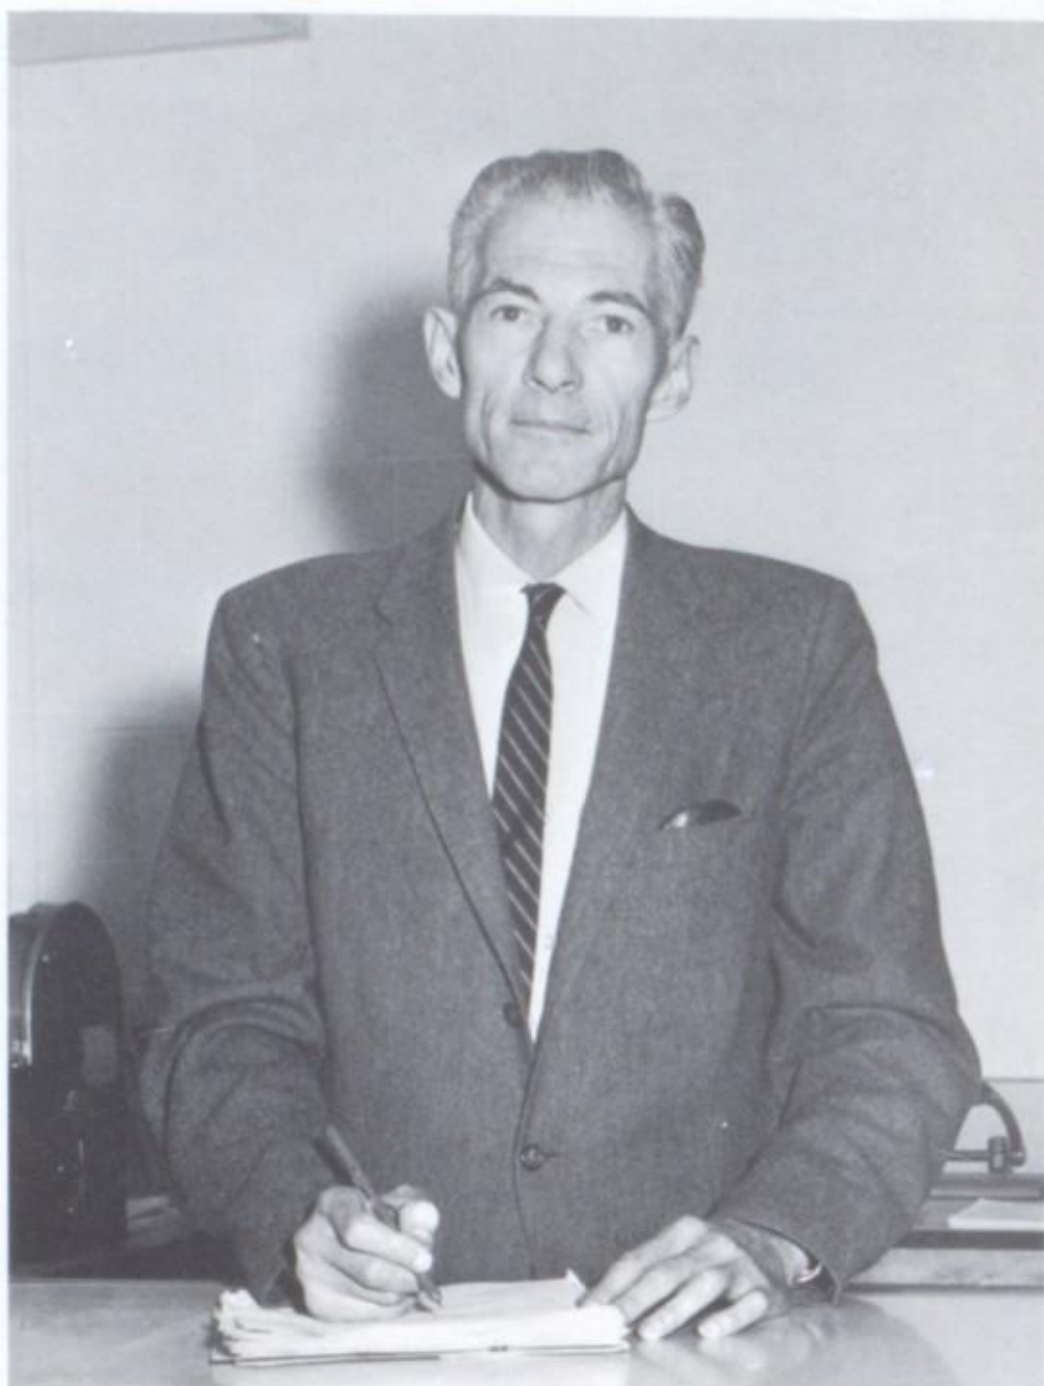

Mr. Fox, our superintendent, pauses for a moment from his busy schedule.

Mrs. Regent and Mrs. Roberge busy at work aiding Mr. Fox.

THEIR HELPING HANDS

Mr. Currier, our principal, guides and keeps us on the long winding road to success.

Mrs. Sullivan's many duties range from giving admit slips to students who are tardy for classes to helping the class treasurers balance their books.

*Good Luck
Buck Sullivan*

SHOW AND GUIDE US

Mr. Incerto makes an important telephone call concerning a senior's future.

Early in October Wayne Crowley discusses plans for college with our Guidance Director, Mr. Incerto.

Always available to accommodate the needs of the students are John Contigiani, Holly Morse, Rita Boyce, and Madge Sheldon of the Junior High School Office Staff.

THE WAY TO SUCCESS

Mrs. Wiggins, Mrs. Bailey, and Mrs. Shaw prepare a nutritious meal which enables the student to perform many mental and physical tasks.

Making the way easier for the rural students to get to school are our friendly bus drivers: Mr. Whittier, Mr. Foster, Mrs. Foster, Mr. Barney, and Mr. Wadleigh.

The responsibility of maintenance and repair of our school lies in the capable hands of our custodians: Mr. Allard, Mr. Florence, and Mr. Piszczek.

William Allard

THE ARCH 1963 SUPPLEMENT

In all its exotic beauty, a "Japanese Garden" was transplanted in our gym the night of the Junior-Senior Prom. Oriental murals, colorful Japanese lanterns, a misty bubbling fountain, lotus trees with blossoms in full bloom, and a rustic foot-bridge, upon which Ann Foster and her escort Peter Currier are standing, helped to convey the magic of Old Japan on that most memorable of nights.

FELLOWSHIP IN ACTION

Crossing the bridge which leads to an evening of fun and pleasant memories are Nancy Contigiani, Priscilla Moulton, Ann Foster, Earlene Chandler, Norma Read, and Rosemary Brown.

While talking to Mary Foster and Bruce Cheney, Mr. Currier points to the beautiful decorations which were used to transform the gym into a Japanese Garden.

Amid the confusion and excitement created at the Prom, Bonnie Batchelder and Bob Geddis enjoy the serene atmosphere created by the rustic bridge, the lotus trees, and the cool pool.

COMBINES ENTERTAINMENT

At intermission, John Robinson follows many others who make their way to the refreshment table which was manned by Jean Foster and Paula Geary.

After an exhausting dance, Mary and Sally Robinson pause a few moments to talk to their dates Dickie and Jimmy Gilbert.

After an enjoyable evening, Peter Currier, Ann Foster, Bonnie Batchelder, and Bob Geddis leave the "Japanese Garden" with tired feet but with happy memories.

At the Junior-Senior Prom everyone seemed to release their stored winter energy and enjoyed themselves.

WITH TEAMWORK

A proud captain of the Varsity Cheerleading Squad, Carol Lockwood, presents the second place trophy the squad won at the Cheerleading Tournament to Mr. Currier for display in the trophy case.

Tilton-Northfield is very proud of Carol Lockwood, Captain of Varsity Cheerleaders and one of the finalists in the "Miss Cheerleader Contest" sponsored by the NEW HAMPSHIRE SUNDAY NEWS.

CHEERLEADING TOURNAMENT

Cheers of appreciation and gratitude go to the excellent cheerleading squad of '63. They provided smiles and encouragement for the team throughout the whole season. An opportunity to prove their skill came this winter with the cheerleading tournament in Meredith. The girls did very well by tying for first place and then in a cheer-off placing second, thus bringing home with them the coveted second-place trophy to adorn Tilton-Northfield's walls.

Smiles, such as this one illustrated by Sally Robinson, contributed to the success of the squad.

Under the watchful eye of their mentor, Mrs. Stearns, the squad, composed of Captain Carol Lockwood, Shirley Evans, Mary Robinson, Linda Shumway, Barbara Havumaki, Edda Quinlan, and Sally Robinson, waits to perform.

AND COOPERATION.

Last minute staging by Howie Gloddy, David Montambeault and aided by the "Reverend Mr. Robert Hewitt."

A senior play has become the tradition at Tilton-Northfield and this year's senior class held with this tradition. The play this year was slightly different from those in the past in that the audience played a very important part. "Outward Bound" was the name of the play. The story dealt with death and reality. The play was directed by Mrs. Dennis and was very well acted. When the final scene of judgement came, the curtain suddenly closed and the audience had to make their own decisions as to the outcome. This was certainly a thought providing play and one which will be long remembered at Tilton-Northfield.

"The Scene of Judgement" from OUTWARD BOUND, Douglas Shedd, Jeff Prescott, Norma Read and Bob Hewitt.

Elaine Bosselait and Mrs. Dennis apply make-up to David Avery as Mr. Currier picks up a few pointers.

The male members of the cast gather around the bar in the "Scene of Truth." Scrubby pours drinks for Bob Hewitt, Peter Currier, Wayne Crowley, and Jeff Prescott.

FELLOWSHIP CREATES

A few encouraging words between opponents Bonnie Yudickey and Mary Robinson help to create a friendly atmosphere at the ski meet.

WINTER CARNIVAL

After weeks of studying and preparing for mid-year exams, the rigors of school life are broken and the Winter Carnival begins. These seven days are probably the most enjoyable for the students. During these days competition between the classes is keen and each class works its hardest to beat the others. The winner of the Carnival holds the distinction of superiority and is also the winner of "Ralphie," a stuffed owl. Skiers, skaters, wrestlers and snowshoers are out every night braving nature's vigorous ways to help their class on the way to the top. The Winter Carnival is highlighted with a ball held on Saturday night. This is the last event of the long week of fun and competition. Although this year the Senior class won the Carnival with the most points for events, the Junior class was rewarded with having the Queen, Barbara Marshall. The Seniors didn't win, however, without a fierce struggle from the Sophomores who were out to prove that Seniors aren't always the best.

Cheerleaders are an important part of any athletic event and when the Winter Carnival took place, these girls proved to be no exception. Routing for their class are junior representatives Edda Guinlan, Judy Jackes, and Martha Grevior.

All eyes are on Mike Sheehan as he attempts to lead the juniors to victory in the run-off of the ski jumping event.

FRIENDLY COMPETITION

No nervous expressions appear on the candidates' faces as they and their escorts await the judges' decision as to who will be the queen of "Snowball." The candidates and their dates are -- Robert Geddis, Bonnie Batchelder, Richard Maher, and Judy Laughy, as senior candidates and escorts. Jeff Prescott, Barbara Couture, Barbara Marshall, and Kenneth Money, as junior candidates and escorts. Linde Hoogerzeil, Mike Winters, Linda Shumway, and William Atherton, as sophomore candidates and escorts.

Trying his best to lead his class to victory, Neil Lockwood carefully takes aim for the basket.

Exhausted from her trip across the field, Barbara Marshall finds the ground most rewarding.

It's a happy moment for Barbara Marshall as she receives the crown from last year's queen, Judy Larrivee. Standing by are Bonnie Batchelder, 1st runner-up and Linda Shumway, 2nd runner-up.

Action such as this made the intramural basketball games an exciting Winter Carnival event. Leonard Emery and George Atherton proved to be two strong jumpers.

AMONG STUDENTS

Yea! Kathy Brown hit a homer, and is the team WILD!!

Peggy Boynton spins a low one for a strike, as Mr. Currier exchanges a business suit for an ump's.

OUR MENACING TEAM

Our softball season got underway on May 10, just two days after the team started practice. The first game was at Belmont and unfortunately due to lack of practice the girls lost this game. The next game was with Meredith at home. Again the girls lost, but this time by only a few points. A game with Pittsfield was canceled due to bad weather. After May 25, the team was really moving. The game with Meredith saw two grand slam home runs in the seventh inning. The last game at Pittsfield more than made up for the team's previous losses. Home runs again seemed to be with the Tilton team. The final score was a tremendous victory for the team. The final score was 46-16 and it was certainly worth waiting for.

Sandy Caldwell digs the dirt for a run as the opposing outfielders clutch desperately and futilely at the zooming ball.

AND BETWEEN SCHOOLS.

In the few minutes before the start of the game, Coach Stone informs pitcher Wayne Gilbert of the opponents he should watch. The closeness of coach to players as shown here is one of the qualities which makes our team so strong.

Everyone knows a tie goes to the runner but this ump doesn't seem to think so. Coach Stone is ready to argue the point that runner Johnny Piscopo is safe while visiting coach agrees with the umpire's decision.

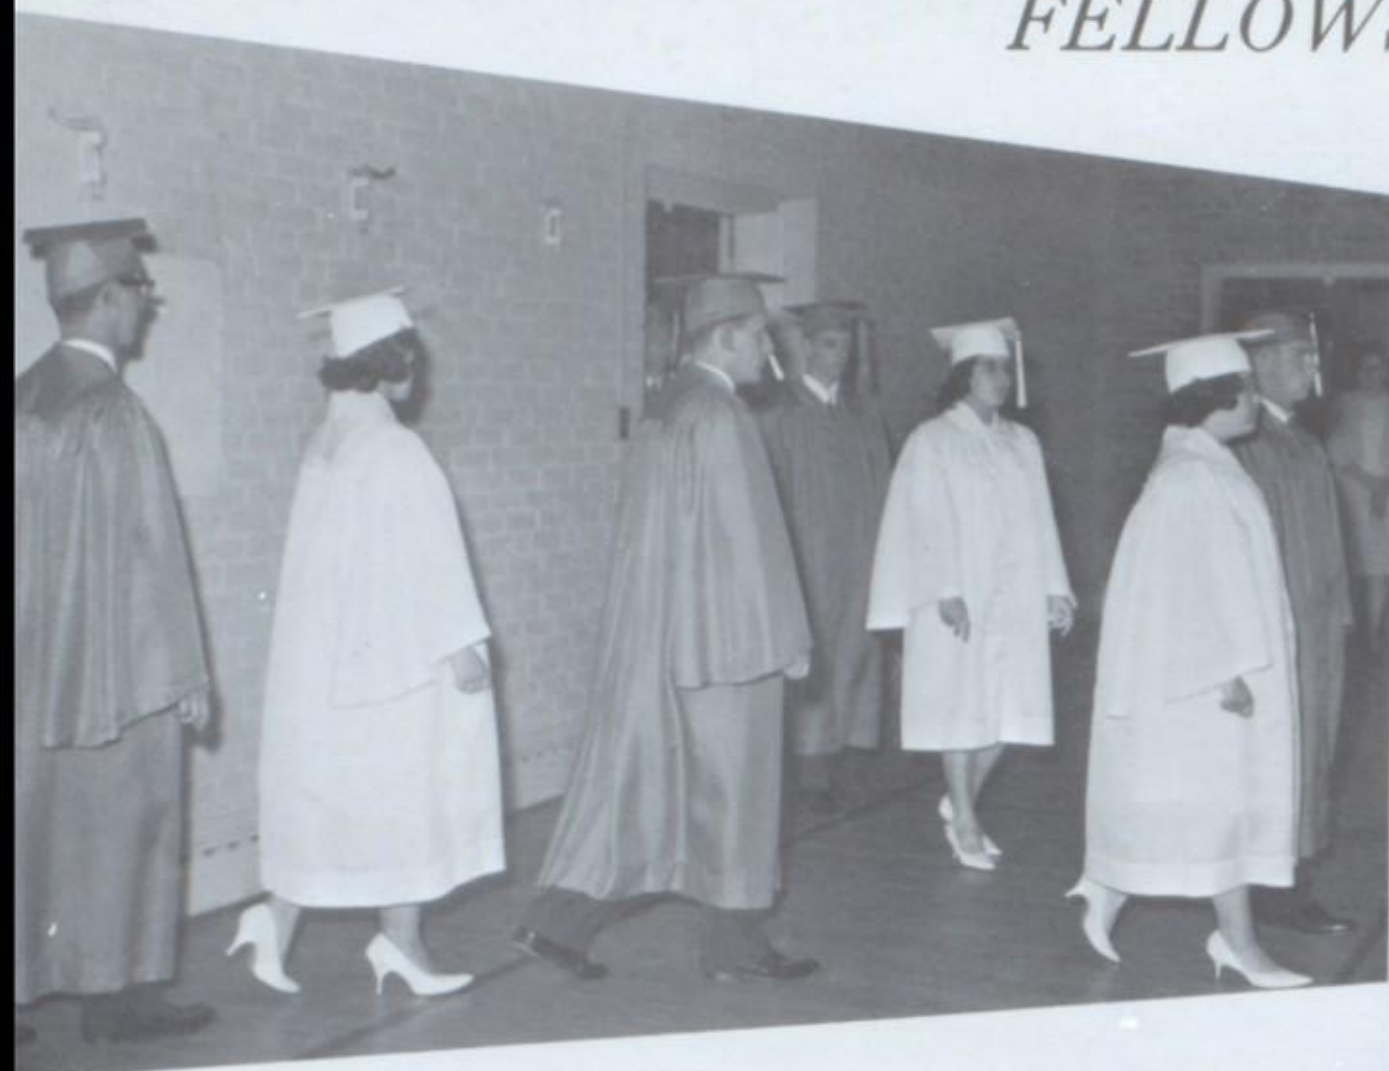

The baseball team had a very successful season this year. The season was climaxed by winning the pemi-league championship. This was certainly a good sign for next year as the team is made up mostly of underclassmen. The team has a particularly good pitcher in Wayne Gilbert and we can certainly look forward to an even better year next year now that the team is more experienced. The team is sorry to lose Moose Simpson, the only senior, but have benefitted greatly from his presence on the team. The team wasn't able to make the state finals this year, but they came very close. The season closed on a good note for the Tilton team and we are optimistic for the future.

Pop-ups are common in baseball and the team must always be on its guard. Catcher and team co-captain Moose Simpson raises his outstretched hand to catch a high one.

FELLOWSHIP BUILDS

On Class Day, the Seniors marched into the gym with the knowledge that they are beginning a new phase of their lives and their high school days are over.

The beginning of the end for the class of '63 started with the traditional march to "Pomp and Circumstance." Led for the last time by class president Ann Foster, the 29 seniors marched to their respective places at the front of the gym. After the class history and prophecy were presented, awards were given by Mr. Currier and the class song was sung. The following Sunday the religious aspect of graduation exercises was carried out in the form of Baccalaureate services held in the gym. Finally graduation night arrived, bringing with it the usual tears. Its arrival climaxed twelve wonderful and eventful years through which the members of the class of '63 discovered the true value of friendship. Entering the gym as a class for the final time, the soon-to-be graduates were greeted by the warm smiles of the parents, friends, and relatives who were present. The program was simple -- first, the invocation by Rev. Robert Sargent, then the traditional speeches by Robert Hewitt valedictorian and Wayne Crowley salutatorian, presentation of awards and scholarships, the presentation of diplomas, the class song, and the benediction by Rt. Rev. Msgr. P. J. Kenney. Then the graduates bade their farewells to Tilton-Northfield and with fond memories of the past but with great anticipation of the future, they marched through the door into a new world.

Ann Foster, senior class president, addresses the student body and gives them a few words of encouragement for the years that lie ahead.

While getting ready for graduation, Josephine Tilton, Priscilla Moulton, and Bonnie Batchelder cry and laugh about the things they've done together during their high school years. X

As the best well-rounded senior in scholarship, leadership, and athletics, Bob Hewitt received the Alfred H. Pucci Award from Coach Chris W. Sakelarios.

THE LEADERS OF TOMORROW

THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1963:

Surprised and honored, Sigrid Andreson receives the Franklin-Tilton-Northfield Scholarship from Mr. Richard Lewis, the editor of the JOURNAL TRANSCRIPT.

After many years of study and anticipation, Bonnie Batchelder and the rest of the seniors receive their long-awaited-for diplomas from Mr. Lawrence, the chairman of the school board.

THROUGH ACHIEVEMENT

With the distinct honor of being the only two members of the same family to join the National Honor Society, Sally and Mary Robinson accept congratulations from their happy parents.

President Robert Hewitt opens the ceremony by informing the initiates of the qualifications of National Honor Society members. Listening attentively to his speech are Jim Sullivan, Judy Jackes, Ellen Kulus, Mary Robinson, Barbara Prescott, Susan King, and Kathy Davidson. Officers taking part in the ceremony are Holly Morse, Wade Crowley, Bob Hewitt, Janet Surowiec, and Linda Currier.

National Honor Society Initiation

As a result and as a reward for long, diligent, hours of study, seven students this year were inducted as members of the National Honor Society. At an impressive candlelight ceremony held in the cafetorium, Kathleen Davidson, Susan King, Ellen Kulus, Barbara Prescott, Mary Robinson, James Sullivan, and Judith Jackes received their pins and cards, which signified their achievement in the academic field. The president of the organization, Robert Hewitt, along with the other officers of the group, Janet Surowiec, Linda Currier, Holly Morse, and Wayne Crowley, explained the requirements for admittance into the society to the gathering of parents and friends present. Having heard the qualities belonging to a National Honor Society member, the seven initiates thus accepted their newly acquired membership with promises to uphold the standards of the organization.

New members of the National Honor Society receiving their pins from Mr. Currier are: Mary Robinson, Barbara Prescott, Susan King, and Kathy Davidson.
